

I recently read that a banking group wants the State of Wisconsin to weaken its laws regarding the no call list. That's a bad action to take considering how effective the current has been in making my phone a safe one to answer, where I don't have to worry about annoying calls being made to me. If any action should be taken, it should be to strengthen the federal law, making it an equal to Wisconsin's law.